

MAKE LEI, TALK STORY:

*Honoring Our Epistemologies Through
Hānai Pedagogy*

MARCH 9, 1:00-2:30PM

3RD FLOOR LEARNING COMMONS

Refreshments and great conversation

Join Robin Brandehoff and Thingstudio to talk story as we make a ceremonial garland and explore our collective epistemologies that drive our pedagogy.

Register: ThingStudio

Contact: ThingStudio@ucdenver.edu

MAKE LEI, TALK STORY:

Honoring Our Epistemologies Through Hānai Pedagogy

In Hawai'i, we connect with our community and our pasts through the traditions that have been passed down to us from our ancestors and kapuna in our community. One such tradition is making lei to show our aloha for each other and celebrate milestones. As we thread together memories honoring our experiences, mentors, and 'ohana, we talk story and share in the knowledge and people that have sculpted us and the dreams we chase.

Join us to talk story as we make a ceremonial garland and explore our collective epistemologies that drive our pedagogy. Who influenced us? What experiences prompted us? What lessons have we learned and carry forward?

Join Robin Brandehoff and ThingStudio for connecting ourselves with the heritages that influence us and how we learn and teach.

Register here: ThingStudio

Contact: ThingStudio@ucdenver.edu

