- 2) You can either sign in using institutional credentials or by setting up a user name and password. To use institutional credentials:
 - a. Click the “Use Institutional Login Credentials” button
 - b. Select “University of Colorado at Denver” from the dropdown list
 - c. Click “Create my account”

Create your Pivot-RP Account

You must be affiliated with an institution that subscribes to Pivot-RP in order to create an account.

There are two ways to create an account and access Pivot-RP. Some institutions allow you to use your institutional login credentials, or you may use your institutional email address as your user ID and create a password of your choosing.

Choose an option below. Once your account is created, you will receive a verification email.

- 3) Pivot-RP has set up profiles for many faculty. If you don't see a profile, you can create one. Information in your profile will help Pivot-RP send you appropriate funding opportunities. To claim your profile:

- a. On the home screen, once you have logged in, click on your name in the upper right hand corner of the screen:

- b. Select the option titled “Claim Profile.”
- c. There may be more than one person with a similar name in the profile list. If so, you will get this screen:

Claim your profile Skip & Claim later >

Our editors create profiles on your behalf.

Claiming your Profile enables you to get automated funding recommendations based on your research interests, increase visibility of your work, find potential collaborators, and more.

We found more than one profile matching your name.

View Matches & Claim Profile

- Click on the “View Matches and Claim Profile” button
- d. You will then see a list of possible profiles:

- k. When complete, click “Finish” to set up your profile.
- 4) The more completely you fill out your profile, the better Pivot-RP can match opportunities to your expertise. Additionally, other people will be able to find you in Pivot-RP for collaboration opportunities. To edit your profile, access your profile by clicking on “My Profile” on the main page.

- a. Click on the "edit profile" button next to your name.
- b. Your profile will open up in a new tab

A screenshot of a user's profile page on the Clarivate platform. The profile belongs to Rachel Bornstein. On the left is a sidebar with navigation options: "Overview" (selected), "Publications (0)", "Grants (0)", and "Patents (0)". The main content area displays the following sections: "Links" (with an "Add" button), "ORCID" (with an "Add" button), "ISNI" (with an "Add" button), "WoS ResearcherID" (with an "Add" button), "Expertise" (with an "Add" button), "Affiliations" (showing "Clarivate" with an "Add" button), "Education" (showing "Indiana University MLib, Library Science 2003" with an "Add" button), "Keywords" (showing "information science or systems", "library science", and "library management" with an "Edit" button), "Languages" (with an "Add" button), "Associations" (with an "Add" button), and "Honors" (with an "Add" button). At the top left of the main area is a placeholder for a profile picture with an "Add Photo" button.

- c. At a minimum, enter a link to your ORCID profile and upload or link to a copy of your CV. This will allow Pivot-RP to import your publications. Also choose keywords to describe your research from Pivot-RP's prescribed list. However, the more information you provide, the better the search results. This is particularly relevant when selecting keywords.
- d. When you are done, click "done" in the upper right corner and close the tab.
- e. On the original page, click "close" to close the edit profile box. This will re-load your profile.
